

Public Service Reimagined

C/CORPS NETWORK

real problems,
real people,
real deliverables

C/Corps organizations connects trained youth to public leaders in need of surge capacity. C/Corps works to solve real problems, with real deliverables.

C/Corps provides a way for public leaders to access surge capacity to launch programs and solve problems. C/Corps teams will help public leaders grapple with complex issues focused on climate change, public health, and forging more equitable communities. With a common training, language, and framework, C/Corps has the unparalleled ability to spin up surge capacity in record time, drawing on network organizations and C/Corps alumni.

C/Corps is:

- A radically different experiential learning program for college-aged youth and post-graduates.
- A valuable resource to develop surge capacity for public leaders.
- A network of service organizations and trained graduates working together for collective action.
